

MIMC WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

Military children tend to stay connected to the military. Some end up joining the service and others work for the military as civilians – from bus drivers and school liaisons to custodial workers, caregivers, coaches and librarians to Youth Sports Directors.

As part of the 2024 Month of the Military Child (MOMC), we are expanding Young Lives, BIG Stories to include former military children (21 and older).

Entries must include:

- Pictures of the military child (.jpeg format):
 - Then (head and shoulders shot)
 - Now (doing their job, ex: coaching a team, helping a customer, etc.).
- Bio info:
 - Name, title and garrison.
 - A memory of their childhood specific to CYA or the military (or the garrison if they ended up working where they lived as child).
 - What it meant to them to be a military child.
 - How they got to where they are now.
 - Still affiliated with military life (work, personal, etc.)?
 - If they could give their younger self advice or a message in reference to growing up military, what would it be?
